To Whom It May Concern ,

In regards to the three boxers that live next door to my family at 1572 Langlois Ave. I understand the complaint and concern of Courtney and Craig Ouellette in regards to the incident that took place April 8/2013 between their dog and the three boxers, my husband and I also had concerns about the dogs when our neighbour Connie first moved in , how ever upon getting to know the dogs the last few months and Connie I do not feel that the dogs pose a threat to us , and what took place on April 8/ 2013 was an awful misfortunate incident between the dogs ,I can say since said incident Connie has done everything in her power to contain her dogs in her yard .

Sincerely

Erica and Jeff Tait

On Monday April 8th, 2013, around 6:00pm, my neighbours who live two doors away from me, Courtney and Craig, were walking down the street to their car with their 2 dogs, Bella and Molly, and their daughter Paityn. Their car was parked across the street from my house and as they were walking they stopped to talk to my neighbour's friend. As they were conversing with each other, Brutus and Madison were in the backyard and leapt over the gate into the front yard because they saw another dog. The brawl between the dogs lasted maybe all of 2-3 minutes while Craig grabbed Brutus off of Molly, two other men came from my neighbours house and grabbed Madison and Molly. I'm not sure if the 2 out of the 3 boxers meant to outright attack Molly or if it was just play fighting out of excitement, but what I am positive about is those boxers are very playful dogs. I play with them whenever I get the chance. The only the way they could ever pose a threat is how large they are and how loud they bark, which can make them seem vicious. But in my opinion I do not see the boxers as a threat to anybody.

Sincerely

To Whom It May Concern:

On April 8 2013 I was at Connie's house, when this incident took place between the dogs. Madison & Brutus came from the back yard when they saw the people & their sheepdog. They were excited and where what I call corn cobbing the sheepdog. This is playful biting, not breaking skin or threat. They just wanted to play. Connie's Boxer's are very friendly & playful animals and they are not a threat to anyone. Her dogs do not run the street. Unlike the guy in the apt. across the street, he has a boxer & he does let it run loose. Where Connie's dogs do not. I am the one that made sure her side gate won't open again.

on that day I reinforced the gate so no one can open it. These dogs are well feed & are taking good care of. Connie does not abuse them either. After this so called attack we all checked the sheepdog & there was no blood no punctures & the dog was fine. The owner of the sheepdog was upset & his wife was beside herself. Saying all kinds of crazy things - then she calmed down & everything was okay. I've known Connie & all her dogs for at least 10 years & she has never had any problems regarding attacks biting or anything with her dogs. Her dogs are usually kept indoors & out to go to the bathroom & playtime.
